Basket Case

Our Media class were present at the inauguration of a new Canal Plus show

On the TV set of La Case en Plus - previously know as « Le Petit Journal - I was first seated next to Jeanne. One of the TV technicians asked whether somebody would accept to be alone between two cameras. Of course as you might have guessed I was the one.

I thought the TV studio was bigger.

Interview de François Morel
La Case en Plus 30/09/17

Then the warm-up man spoke to everybody asking them things like "who's never been on a TV set? He also told us to laugh exagerately as the show was neither entertaining nor informative, actually it was not fun at all.

There were so many awkward moments, for example they showed a trailer about the horror movie It but instead of the clown it was Jean-Luc Mélenchon

"Vidas Negras": UN campaign against racism

Last week, the United Nations decided to intervene in Brazil with a major campaign against racism. This campaign called "Vidas Negras" (Black Lives) is intended to try and stop rampant violence in the country, especially against black youths. According to the UN, A black man is up to 12 times as likely to be a victim of manslaughter in Brazil as a non-black man. Niky Fabianic, a UN spokesperson said "Vidas Negras campaign is a call to action". This action is one of the goals of a sustainable development project to protect the young population against discrimination. In Brazil, seven murdered persons out of ten are black. Furthermore, four in 1,000 Brazilian teenagers, will be killed before the age of 19. The government wishes to make communities react against racial discrimination.

"Vidas Negras": la campagne de l'ONU contre le racisme

La semaine dernière, l'ONU a lancé une grande campagne de lutte contre le racisme. « Vidas Negras » est le nom donné à cette campagne qui a pour but de combattre le racisme et d'essayer d'enrayer la violence qui s'exerce particulièrement contre les jeunes noirs.

Second weekend

The second week-end of the trip

21/02/2015-22/02/2015 at Cherry Hill

We spent every day with our class visiting a lot except during the week-end. The week-end is a time to rest, a time to sleep in and to do lots of activities with our host family!

This week-end, I was awake by the good smell of pancakes! We had the breakfast together, my exchange, her sisters and her parents. I was just like a member of their family, talking about everyday life.

Because it was snowing during all the night we decided to go sledding. It is not something common in Paris! We took the car until we arrived below the hill. And...Let's go!
